- Pediatric immunology
- Hispanic health issues
- Pediatric neurology
- Pediatric hypertension and neonatology
- Pediatric asthma
- Pediatric end of life

Course learning objectives
Upon conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Provide initial treatment and describe current evaluation and management of common pediatric surgery problems.
- Describe the current medical management of common ENT problems in the pediatric patient, when to evaluate at the primary care level and when to refer to a specialist.
- Review the presentation and initial management of the patient with sudden cardiac death, and discuss screening tools for the pre-adolescent and adolescent athlete.
- Discuss the diagnosis and management guidelines for the obese pediatric patient, as well as long-term consequences of obesity in children.
- Discuss diagnosis and treatment of sexually transmitted diseases, including newer testing modalities and implications for sexual abuse.
- Discuss the implications of an abnormal newborn screen, what follow-up tests to order and when to refer.
- Discuss changes in the immunization schedule for children.
- Discuss controversies related to newer vaccines.
- Discuss the evaluation, diagnosis and management of cutaneous findings and mucous membrane findings associated with varicella, rubeola, scarlet fever, hand, foot, and mouth disease, Gianotti-Crosti syndrome, unilateral laterothoracic exanthem, infectious mononucleosis and rickettsial diseases.
- Discuss the evaluation, diagnosis and management of common and not-so-common rashes in the pediatric population and their implication for general practice.
- Review common strategies for the reading of pediatric EKG's.
- Review common and not-so-common challenging pediatric cases.
- Review end of life case management in the pediatric patient.
- Discuss etiologic agents, diagnosis and treatment of perleche, tinea capitis, herpes simplex, pediculosis capitis, congenital syphilis and scabies.
- Discuss the diagnosis, management and treatment of asthma in the self-managed pediatric patient.
- Discuss the diagnosis, management and treatment of the most common immunodeficiency syndromes in pediatric patients.
- Review common healthcare issues affecting the growing Hispanic pediatric population in the United States and strategies to achieve cultural competency in everyday practice.
- Discuss the etiology, diagnosis and treatment options for headaches in pediatric patients.
- Review the diagnosis and management of persistent pulmonary hypertension in the newborn.

Intended audience
Kentucky Children's Hospital Contemporary Pediatrics conference is designed for pediatricians, pediatric specialists, family medicine physicians, pediatric nurse practitioners, family medicine nurse practitioners, physicians in resident training, nurses and physician assistants.
