Medication Name:

Important Information I Should Know

This is a medication that can treat certain cancers by working with your immune system. This medication can cause your immune system to attack your normal cells, tissues and organs, which can cause serious and even life-threatening side effects. These side effects may appear at any time during your treatment or months after discontinuation.

Tell all of your healthcare providers you are on this medication. Please contact oncologist/hematologist prior to starting any oral steroids.

Carry this card with you while you are on treatment especially while traveling.
